

The Forum of Women in the Environmental Field Presents:

Political Panel Event

Wednesday, November 18th, 2009, 5:30pm-7:30pm

Join the Forum of Women in the Environmental Field for a light dinner and a panel discussion featuring Minnesota women who successfully advocate for the environment. Panelists will discuss what you can do at any level to affect environmental change. Whether you are an elected official, a lobbyist or a grassroots activist there are opportunities to improve the environmental health of our community. There will be plenty of time for questions and answers.

Annual FWEF elections will be held.

A light dinner will be served.

Location: University of St. Thomas, Murray-Herrick Campus Center

RSVP: by Monday, November 16th, 2009

Cost: is $18 ($12 for members, $10 for students)

Register online at www.fwef.org

FWEF Event
Political Panel
Nov 18-evening
Register: fwef.org

FWEF Event
Political Panel
Nov 18-evening
Register: fwef.org

FWEF Event
Political Panel
Nov 18-evening
Register: fwef.org

FWEF Event
Political Panel
Nov 18-evening
Register: fwef.org

FWEF Event
Political Panel
Nov 18-evening
Register: fwef.org